Discover 2012 Is Now Part of Oracle OpenWorld 2012

We are delighted to announce that Endeca's Discover annual user conference, originally scheduled for March 2012, will be combined with Oracle OpenWorld, September 30–October 4, 2012, in San Francisco, California.

Combining these events offers a much broader and deeper experience that will demonstrate not only how Oracle is integrating Endeca's products, but also how Oracle's entire family of solutions can serve your business.

If you have any questions, please reach out to your existing sales and services representatives. For more information on the acquisition, go to: oracle.com/endeca.

Thank you for your continued support.
